CHAIRMAN'S VIEW

Most people receiving this latest issue of the club's bulletin will notice an obvious change - it has been sent electronically. At its last meeting in November, Council agreed that to reduce costs both for printing and postage, in future we will distribute the bulletin via e-mail where possible. Some copies will continue to be printed for those who do not have e-mail or prefer a paper copy, as well as for handing out to potential members.

I am pleased to report that the club has made a good start to the new season. A number of new members have joined, to whom I extend a warm welcome. One of the objectives of the club is to encourage and support its members in making images with visual appeal, so it is gratifying to be able to report that we have also reached the semi-final stages of two South London Federation inter-club competitions, those for Digital Projected Images and Monochrome Prints. Unfortunately, we just missed out on a semi-final place for Colour Prints and will compete in the Plate competition in that category.

At the last AGM, the club made a decision by an overwhelming majority that only prints would be eligible for the Bamber Trophy, which is our annual monochrome competition. The outcome was a resounding success, with many members entering and the judge had a large pile of images to consider. Congratulations to David Candlish who came out as the overall winner.

We now look forward to our annual exhibition, which for many years we held at the Fairfield Halls. This year we switched to a new venue, namely the Click Clock Gallery in Croydon's Clocktower complex. All the prints were framed and looked very impressive on the gallery walls. Although we were able to hold the exhibition for a fortnight, twice as long as we had at the Fairfield Halls, I felt regret when such an impressive display had to come down so soon. That is being rectified this season and the show will run for a full four weeks.

The exhibition is an opportunity for members to put their best work on public display and I doubt if there are many clubs which can hold such an event over four weeks. In part this is due to the generous sponsorship from Richard Frankfurt who has supported the event for many years and helps us keep the entry fees as low as possible. I hope that every member will take full advantage of this opportunity so that we can show everyone in Croydon the talents which exist within the club.

It remains only for me to conclude by wishing all members a Happy Xmas and a prosperous year in 2014.
